

General estimation for localization

2009/4/1

The price of localization is estimated by using unit prices of localization part of original document that are per word for English to Japanese and per character for Japanese to English. The unit prices are different depending on the condition such as its field and category, and offered or not offered glossary or reference. The general estimation table below for localization is only reference on big-standard documents. An official estimate will be created after confirming the original document.

Unit Price: ¥

Document Category	Unit	Unit Price
English to Japanese: general office work documents, e-mails.	words	10
English to Japanese: manuals, contracts, agreements.	words	15
English to Japanese: papers, academic and professional documents.	words	18
Japanese to English: general office work documents, e-mails.	characters	6
Japanese to English: manuals, contracts, agreements.	characters	10
Japanese to English: papers, academic and professional documents.	characters	14

Especially for localization required for native check, another check fee will be added. It will be within ¥5- per character of the original document.

As is obvious, for documents received for estimation and localization, we will observe the obligation of confidentiality. So please feel free to request estimations and answers to your questions.

In addition, for the first time order, we will allow a 10% discount for the total amount by applying a trial price.
